The student can select whichever invoice plan they prefer.

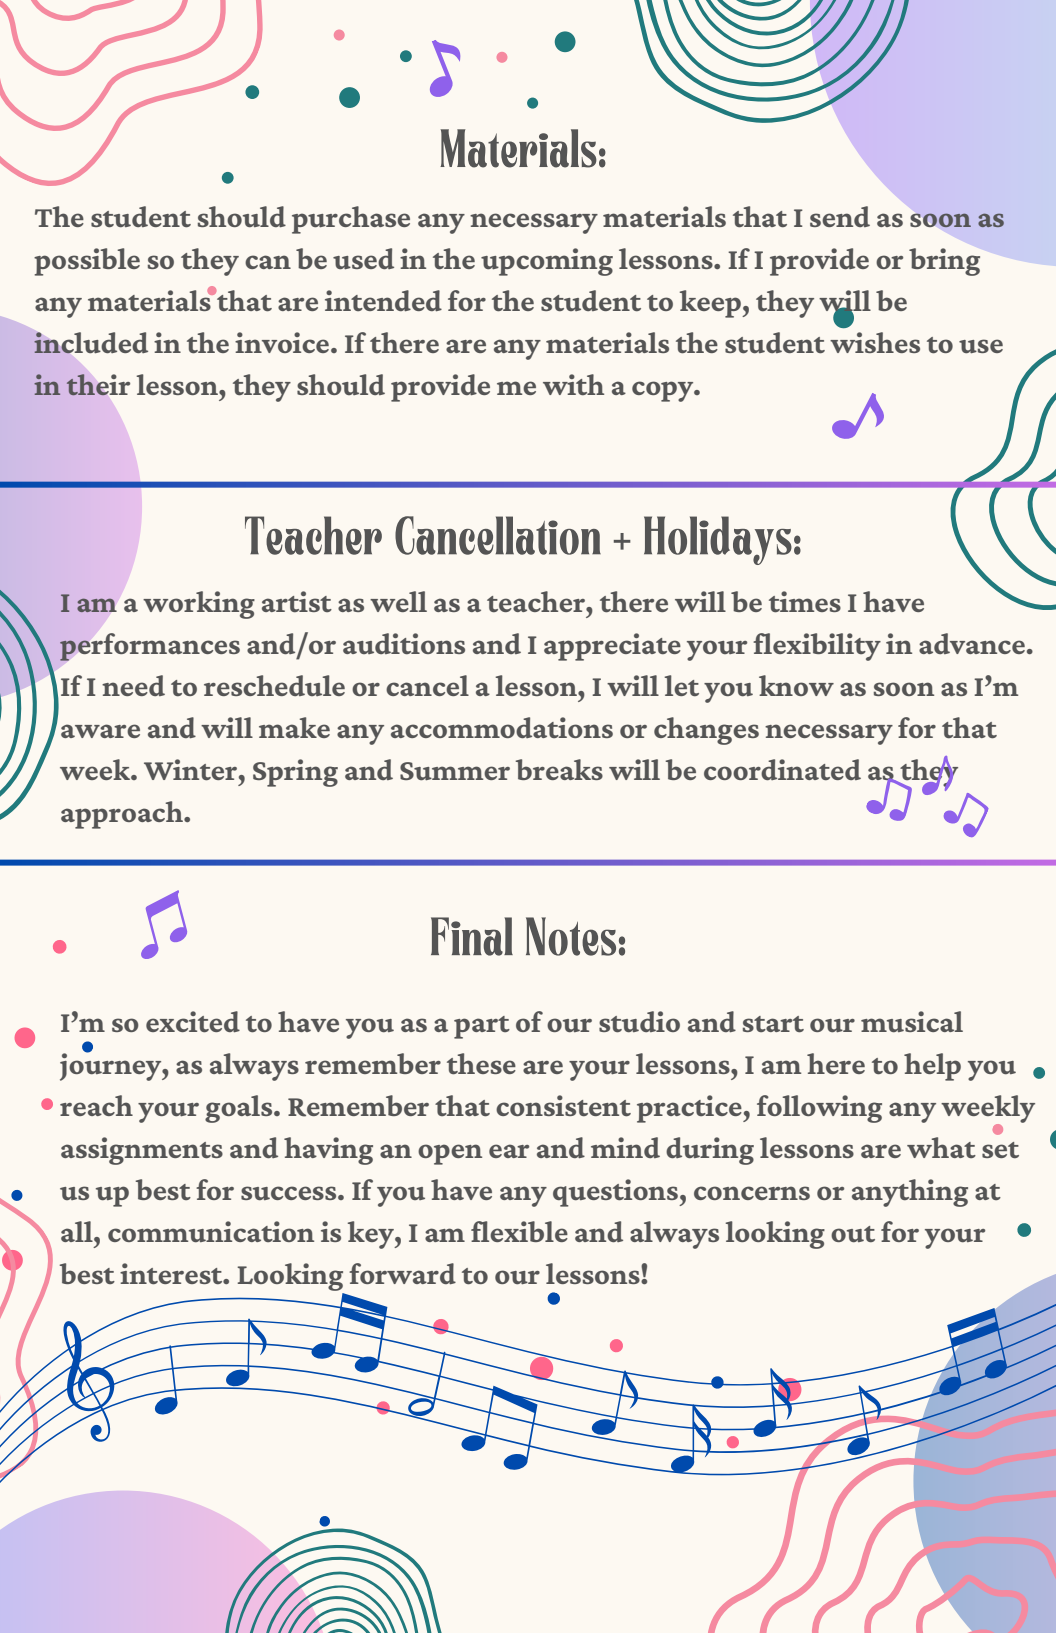

Payment covers the cost of lessons only. Driving fees for lessons in the student's home are additional, and in the event of a recital, or any further goods, the appropriate fees for materials, locations, and pianists will be included in the invoice.

Lesson Cancellation:

Should a lesson need to be canceled or rescheduled, please contact and communicate the change as soon as you're aware, no matter how early in advance. Lessons canceled less than 24 hours before will still be charged, barring any extraordinary circumstances. I will do my absolute best to make up or reschedule any necessary lessons; however, if that is not possible, keep in mind that only lessons taught will be included on the invoice.

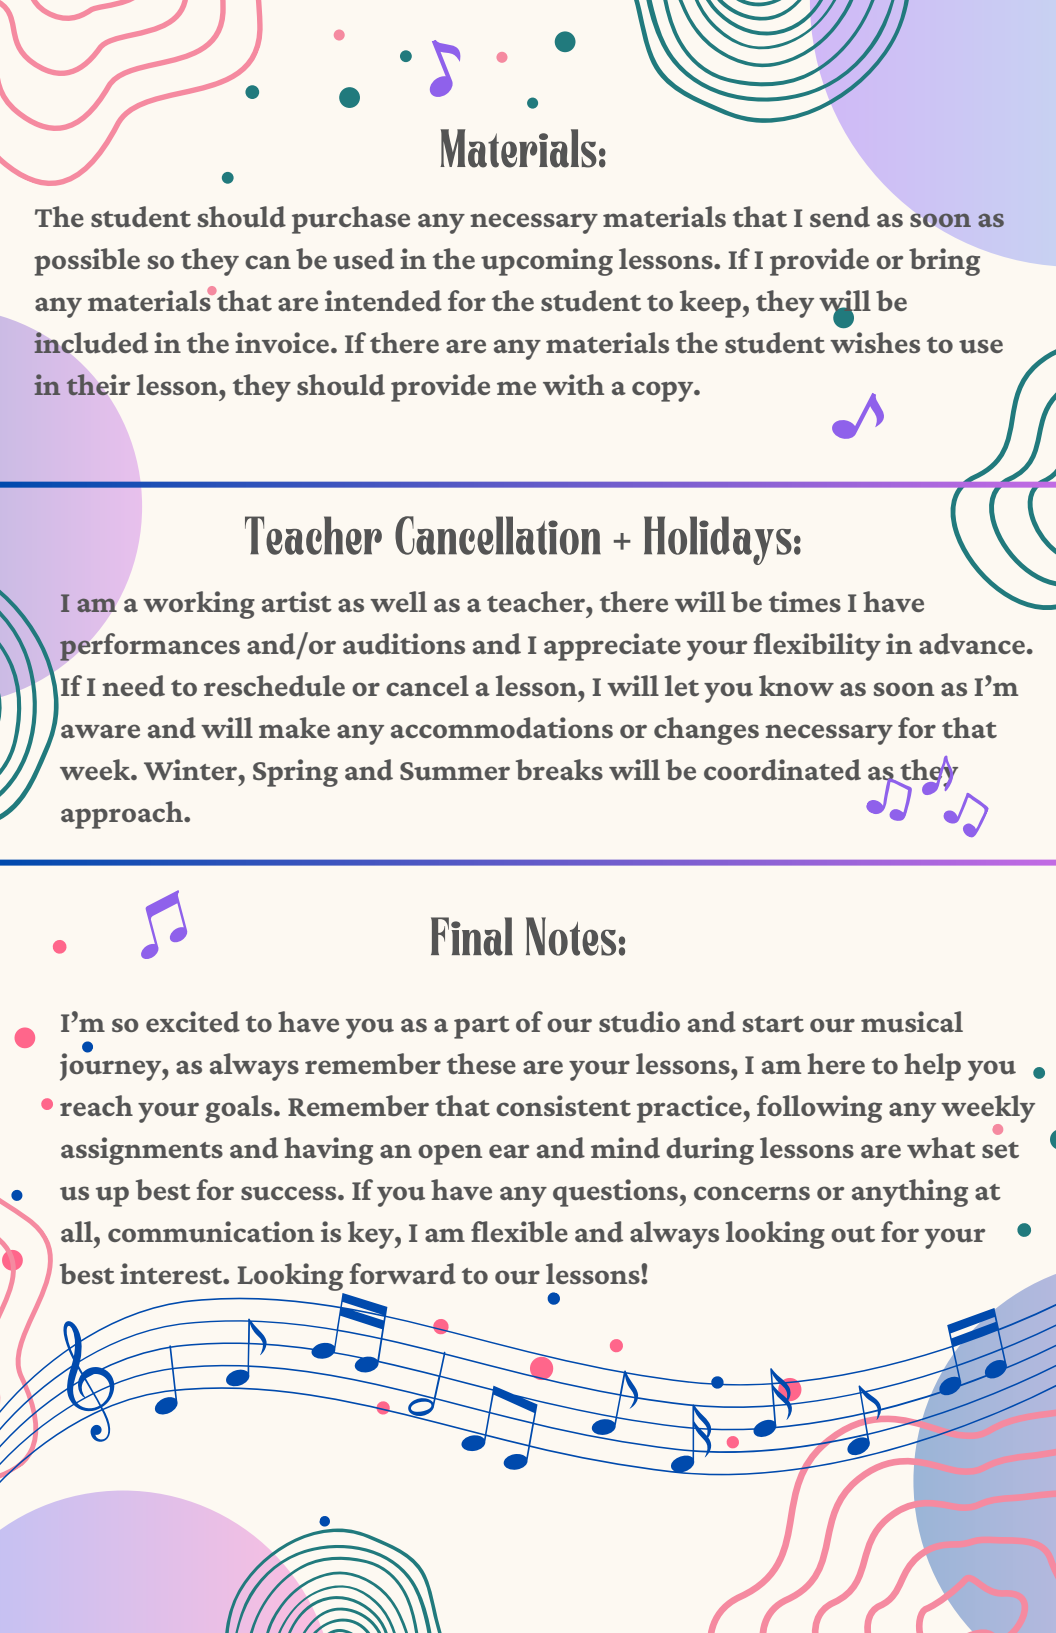

Materials:

The student should purchase any necessary materials that I send as soon as possible so they can be used in the upcoming lessons. If I provide or bring any materials that are intended for the student to keep, they will be included in the invoice. If there are any materials the student wishes to use in their lesson, they should provide me with a copy.

Teacher Cancellation + Holidays:

I am a working artist as well as a teacher, there will be times I have performances and/or auditions and I appreciate your flexibility in advance. If I need to reschedule or cancel a lesson, I will let you know as soon as I'm aware and will make any accommodations or changes necessary for that week. Winter, Spring and Summer breaks will be coordinated as they approach.
